

Forecast For Scotland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 1600 on Friday 15 Oct 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:

Fine start to Saturday, but rain gradually spreading from southwest.

This Evening and Tonight:

Clear and cold for the majority of the mainland, a few showers around the Northern Isles and more cloud for the Hebrides and west coasts.

Saturday:

Bright start for all but southwest. Cloud gradually thickening from southwest, with patchy rain, strengthening winds reaching as far north as Central Belt around mid-day, then Lochaber, Deeside by dusk.

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:

Generally unsettled with showers or longer periods of rain, but milder than off late. Best of the shelter in the east.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.